

Determining our Level of Success

A few days ago I blessed and bid farewell to a unit of armed service men and women. Surely, they have different thoughts about their mission, goals, and sacrifices they are sure to make. Yet, as our staunch soldiers are lined up on the tarmac, despite the many things running through their hearts and minds, they know the one thing they do not question is one another's support.

Our level of success corresponds directly to our level of participation. Similarly, parishioner participation corresponds to the strength of our parish's dreams, our sense of urgency surrounding the project, and each individual household's dedication to unifying our Catholic community. The campaign has received many pledges that have been influenced by one of these reasons.

Some parishioners have pledged because they are dedicated to the strengthening and renewal of our Catholic heritage. Others acknowledge that our legacy structures will soon need to be replaced, or that the school needs more room to flourish. However, many have indicated that they give because they see, hear, and, most importantly, feel the need to come together to worship, socialize, and prove that we are indeed a Catholic Community in service and spirit, not just in words.

Many may know the ancient Greek quote, "United we stand; divided we fall." As Catholics we are a small minority in our city's population spread over a relatively large area; however, this should not be our primary motivation for uniting. In uniting as one community, we lift and strengthen one another's spirits and provide a bigger sense of support. Together, we may better acknowledge our shared responsibilities towards one another through Christ, and we know we can accomplish anything because we are acting together.

I ask you to come together, support your parish's project, and join me in making a gift of sacrifice. One individual, one priest, a parish staff, a group of volunteers does not build a church or a community. Our level of success is not determined by any one entity; it is determined by the involvement of us all, the parishioners of Holy Spirit.

Hello, Is Anybody Home?

We aim to keep calling until we have decisions from each and every household. We have spoken to a lot of people, answered every question imaginable, and have received dozens of pledges, some from people who aren't even parishioners or of our faith. In fact, we have received 75 pledges totaling $133,300 in our phone-a-thon sessions.

However, we have also left hundreds of messages. If you were left a message or missed a call from a volunteer, please do not hesitate to call or stop into the Parish Life Center to ask questions or make your commitment. Each and every one makes a difference, and we are grateful for every gift of sacrifice we receive.

Please continue to be courteous to your fellow parishioners calling upon you for support. Your prayerful and financial commitment is critical to our project and directly determines our timeline for all phases of our master plan. Moreover, let our total participation as a parish set the tone for our future unity, physically and in spirit.

Thank You!

To date, our 2010, Sharing Our Faith + Building Our Future campaign has raised $1,058,405 from only 181 pledges. Please join us in support of our project.

"Let sacrifice, not convenience be the measure of your generosity." - Pope John Paul II
